Welcome to Select & Protect. Here you will find all the details you need to become an introducer which will let you start earning commission with the help of our UK based Home Insurance sales team.

What introducing is all about

Introducing frees you from all the difficult and time consuming aspects of gaining an income through General Insurance. You can help customers on the desirability of obtaining insurance cover but you must not advise customers on the benefits of specific insurance products. The Select & Protect team will take care of this on your behalf. If asked, simply inform your customer that Regulatory rules prevent you from advising or answering their questions, but Select & Protect will be more than happy to give all of the information that is required.

How to become an introducer

Under the rules set out by the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA), introducing customers to Select & Protect is a regulated activity and you therefore need to be authorised by the FCA. Simply complete the form on the Select & Protect website then sit back and wait for our Broker Support team to give you a call to gather all the necessary information. At this point, we will undertake our due diligence checks as required by the FCA, including a credit check; a request for references and a review of the FCA Register. We will then submit your application to the FCA and once they have approved it, Select & Protect will issue you with your Introducer Agency number.
Introducing your customer to Select & Protect is easy. Simply:-

1. Ask your customer if they would like to receive a quotation for insurance
2. Make sure you have the customer’s agreement to pass their contact details to Select & Protect for an insurance quote - you can use the personalised leaflet provided by Select & Protect
3. Forward us the customer’s details using one of the methods shown below:
   - Call us on 0345 345 9650 during office hours
   - Submit online by completing the simple submission form and clicking on the button located in the Introducers area of our website: www.select-protect.co.uk

Earn income year after year after year

Our team will then contact the customer at the time you agreed with them to talk about their insurance needs. If the customer takes out a policy with us, we will confirm policy details with you and then pay the commission due to you at competitive rates. You can track your referrals via the website and each time we make a sale we will let you know by email.

It really is as easy as that!
